Commander-in-Chief, G.A.R. lows. EDITOR NATIONAL TRIBUNE: I am surprised that certain Department Commanders should take adverse action in regard to a general attendance at the 23d National Encampment at Milwaukee.

The course pursued by them I regard as hasty and their kindly intentions on the transportation ques-tion, but their counsel to the comrades in their respective Departments when they failed to secomplish their mission is, in my opinion, entirely wrong. Their action is too much like the old adage of "locking the stable door after the horse is stolen." The matter of transportation rates I always supposed was the first thing to be considered in the selection of the place for holding the Encampment; not the last, as the present difficulty would seem to indicate. After the city of Milwaukee has made such magnificent preparations for the reception of the Grand Army, it seems to me the hight of folly to bring into question the duty of the comrades every where in regard to their general attendance. From the ample provisions made by the commides and citizens of Milwaukee for the Those who fail behind should be notified of their reception of the Grand Army, it seems to me they | delinquency before the account has run until the h-ve a demand upon all comrades which no action amount has become so large as to be burdensome.

I hope the Department Commanders will reconsider what has been done and all resolve to pet forth one strong, united effort to make the 28d Sational Encampment second to none we have

Let us all go up to Milwaukee and gladden the hearts of our comrades and the generous-hearted citizens of that beautiful city, who are ready and anxious to give us a royal welcome. I will now submit through the columns of THE NATIONAL TRIBUSE a motion, and if it meets the approval of the comrades I hope to hear a hearty second to it, tation, in 1890, and also that the Government fornish transportation to every surviving old soldier who will attend. General Orders, No. 7, issued at Chicago Aug. 5, by order of James S. Martin, Department Commander-C. A. Partridge, A. A.-G.-contain the fol-

The Commander desires to congratulate the comrades upon the continued growth of the Order in this Department, During the first and secon quarters of 1889, 14 new Posts were established and preliminary steps taken toward the organization of others, some of which have been formally mustered since the beginning of the third quarter of the year. The net gain in this Department during the past quarter is 343. In view of the fact that a considerable number have been dropped for nonpayment of dues, this gain is quite gratifying. In this connection the Commander desires to urge upon Post officers the necessity of a better system of looking after delinquent members than usually prevails. At each meeting it is well to give organizations, the Woman's Relief Corps and the Sons of Veterans, is to be heartily commended and should be fittingly recognized. It is suggested that wherever these organizations exist they should be invited to co-operate in the work of arranging for County and District Reunions and all other work part. The Army and Navy Survivors' Divison, Pension Bureau, Washington, D. C., is now pos-sessed of quite a complete service-roll. Post Com-manders should from time to time call attention to the fact that the address of former comrades can this new bureau. The leave-of-absence card of William Brady, of George G. PENNSYLVANIA .-

Grand Army Day will be celebrated in Pittsburg this year on Oct. 1. A meeting of the Posts located in Allegheny County was held a few weeks ago, at which a large representation was present. To the Executive Committee was referred the matter of entertaining the visiting comrades on that day, and in addition a Grand Army Day Committee was appointed, with the following members, the first named from each Post being the Commander: Post No. 3, W. F. Speer, W. H. Lambert, Edward Fisher; 38, J. L. Raishouse, Dr. W. B. Kroesen, John Williams; 41, R. B. Elliott, A. J. Reed, J. H. L. Shook; 117, George H. Ladley, J. F. Denniston; 128, Thomas G. Sample, D. M. Morrison, Joseph F. Deibold; 151, John Dettis, S. M. Duvall, A. C. Frank; 155, Jacob Nelson, C. B. Slepler, Thos. R. Boss; 157, A. H. Askin, Wm. J. Patterson, H. H. Bengough; 162, A. P. Burchfield, A. F. Scott, J. F. Neeley; 206, Henry Jones, C. H. Shelby, S. A. Joh son; 207, John Bryson, James Atkinson, D. W. Hutchinson; 230, John V. Brooks, John Harvey; 259, O. M. Head, Ed. Auble, B. F. Jennings; 360, F. Alward, V. E. Kisner, Geo. W. Roop; 548, J. C. Hill, T. J. McGrath, Robert Collins; 564, John H. Few, Joseph Dearing. The committee will hold a meeting in the Select Council Chamber at Pittsburg Saturday, Aug. 24. On Tuesday, Aug. 13, Post No. 151, of Pittsburg, gave a picuic to Castle Shannon Grove, which was largely attended. Relief Corps No. 1 daintily served the refreshments. Department Commander Stewart and a number of members of his staff enjoyed a trip to Cape May on the Delaware River steamer, Republic, under the care of Post No. 25, of Chester, Aug. 10. The Post took an immense crowd with them, and on its return supplemented the day's enjoyment with a Campfire.

The naval veterans of Post No. 400, of Philadelphia, cleared $100 by their excursion to Cape May Aug. 5, At a recent muster of Meade Post, Philadelphia, a beautiful gold military badge was presented to Col. A. Louden Snowden, who was several weeks ago appointed Minister to Greece by President Harrison. Comrade G. Harry Davis made the requisite address, and a sort of impromptu Campfire followed. Seldom has there been so much indignation stirred up among the comrades of this Department as has the action of the officials of the Montgomery Cemetery at Norristown, On Thursday two weeks ago Heury Johnson, a colored commde of Zook Post, No. 11, died in the Montgomery Almshouse, and the Post teok charge of his remains. Prepara-tions were made for the burial of the body, but on the following day the cemetery officials gave the Post notice that the burial could not take place in those grounds. To say that there was indignation manifested is, well, "drawing it mild." Johnson's body was buried in the Tremont Baptist Cemeon account of the color of the man is bad enough; but, just think, the pet dog of a family named Steinmitz was buried in the cemetery with great afternoon of the same day. omp. The Quartermaster's report for same quarter, shows a satisfactory balance in the treasury. The Colonel earnestly urges that the Division of Minnesota press steadily onare marching nobly onward; reinforcements are coming up, and on every side of us Divisions are making astonishing accessions. Minnesota should not be behind in the march of progress; eligible brothers are growing up and coming among us; make a determined effort to recruit them into the ranks of the Sons of Veterans; invite them to the entertainments held by the members of the Order, and make them welcome. Attention is especially directed to those who from grievance, real or fancled, neglect or inability to meet requirements have dropped by the wayside. Encourage them to renew their fealty to the Order, and, finally, adjust all differences that may exist; appoint committees of zealous brothers to cure troubles and bury dissensions. LOYAL WOMEN OF THE UNION.

A POEM FROM THE PEN OF PROF. WILLIAM A. BRADSHAW.

Last December Prof. William A. Bradshaw, of Jamestown, N. Y., wrote to President-elect Harris son, inclosing a poem. Following is the letter received in reply, also the poem, which was published ed in the Indianapolis Journal: WILLIAM A. BRADSHAW, Esq., Jamestown, N. Y.
MY DEAR SIE: Your letter of Dec. 17, inclosing

what you are good enough to call a paraphrase, in blank verse, of a speech delivered by me, has been received. I am sure you have so much improved upon my thought and expression that I can claim no other relation to the work except that of naving suggested a theme. I think your composition is too good to be lost, and I have turned it over to Mr. Halford for publication in the Journal. With kind regards, very truly, yours, BERJ. HARRISON.

LOYAL WOMEN OF THE UNION. A paraphrase of Gen. Harrison's speech to the Society of the Army of the Cumberiane 'Tis woman that demands our homage now; Turn we from notes and trumpet calls of war To listen to the tender voice of those Who, by the quiet hearth and in the school, With influence as potent as the sun, Prepared a generation of brave men, To walk with fearless step the furnace through Seven times heated, of a civil war. We look away with earnest, loving eyes To the pure source of those impulses high. With glowing eye and swelling breast the boy Learns the grand story from his mother's lips Of scenes in which the Stars and Stripes were born-Those scenes of blood and victory and joy-And from her holy consecration learns The lesson not to count his life as dear, But when his country calls to fly to arms, And nobly fight for freedom and the flag. When the first gun at Sumter's walls was fired, And to its peril and its duty woke The mighty Nation, woman's patriot heart Beat from the first in harmony sublime, With the majestic music that arose— The music of the Union. Her fair hands Answered the impulse of her heart and strove With prompt alacrity to render aid To the brave men that rallied at the call. She wrought the banners that would gaily float Over the marching columns that went forth, And in their silken folds she wove her faith, Her love, her fervent prayers. When the sword Into her brother's hand she, tearful, gave She charged him to be true and not to stain its brightness with dishonor or defeat. Her winning smile encouraged all the brave; She shamed the timid into manly deeds. With waving banners the departing troops She cheered with all her heart, hiding the tears That filled her kindly eyes, lest she might make Him weak who needed strength. Into the field

To take the lineaments of the loved ones left Which seemed to swallow up the Nation's hope Her faith bowed down before, but quicker far Than the strained hopes of men it lifted up, And with prophetic vision saw and sang Of that good time when triumph should reward The Nation's travail, and the stormy sea Should whelm both horse and rider. She took up The tasks of men, that all the dwindling ranks Might still be filled. She gave first one and then Another of her sons; and when the cry Remorseless came upon the shrinking winds From fields of frightful carnage for more men. The child of her old age she yielded up With faith like that of Abraham of old, Who led the child of promise to the mount-The mount of sacrifice. The wife gave up The husband of her love, and spent her days In loneliness and labors not her wont. Oh, if the battlefield its heroes had, Not less the home its heroines enshrined. If Liberty her martyrs tried and true Counted by thousands in the track of war, She counted also not a few among The broken-hearted women of the land.

The soldier's heart and arm were nerved to By the fond memory of a mother's love. He fought as one who fights his eager way Toward his happy home. Only in peace And through the gates of victory he knew He could return again unto that home-The scene of all his joys. Like angels bright Round the rude camptires did that memory dwell. Rebuking vice and keeping clean the heart. God bless the patriot women of our land! How much of our success, our grand success, Came from God's favor to her carnest prayers. He, who the tiny springs of influence Blends in the sweeping river, only knows. But that her power was great we gladly own, And share with her the glory and the joy

And now, my friends, My comrades brave in many a battlefield, May the sweet face of mother, sister, friend, Look from these sparkling cups to us again, To purify and chasten all our joys.

Department Gleanings.

DEPARTMENT OF ORIO. 13. Toledo, the W.R.C. were their invited guests and were royally entertained. The most enjoyable feature of the evening was the presentation to the Corps of an elegant silk banner, handsomely embroidered, the gift of the Post. Rev. Henry & Bacon made the presentation speech on behalf of the Post in an earnest and eloquent manner, dwell-ing upon the splendid work of the Corps and the esteem in which they were held by the Post. Mrs. Emms S. Goldsmith, although completely sur-prised, was master of the situation, and, as Presi-dent of the Corps, made a beautiful and touching response that appealed to the hearts of Post and Corps. Mrs. Goldsmith has been President of Forsyth Corps, No. 1, for two years, a distinction that needs no praise of her ability as an officer.

Mrs. Elizabeth Mansfield Irving, Past Department Inspector, added much to the pleasure of the evening by her spirited recitations. Forsyth Corps gave their annual pienie Aug. & which was a trip to Detroit on the steamer Greyhound, one of the commodious pleasure steamers on the lake. The picuic was a grand success in every detail, about 400 being on board. Mrs. Cors Day Young, Past National Senior Vice-President, was one of the party.

Mrs. Elizabeth S. Herron, President W.R.C., De partment of Ohio, has been the guest of Mrs. Ada F. Clarke, of Canton, O.

DEPARTMENT OF MICHIGAN. DEAR TRIBUNE: Wm. H. Borden Corps, No. 18. Ionia, gave an ice cream social at the residence of their President, Mrs. Wm. Dunn, Wednesday ovening, July 24, which was a decided success. Twenty gallons of cream were used, and the proceeds amounted to over $20. The Corps is in a flourishing condition and rapidly advancing.-Arthur
